GCSE & Curriculum

Supporting Learning Beyond the Classroom

Summit Up offers tailored GCSE PE climbing packages designed to support schools in delivering climbing as part of their PE curriculum. Our experienced instructors provide a structured, supportive environment where students can develop climbing skills, confidence and a sense of achievement.

Developing Skills and Confidence

Climbing helps students build strength, coordination, problem-solving skills, decision making, teamwork and resilience. Our sessions encourage students to challenge themselves, develop new skills and achieve their personal goals in a positive environment.

Flexible Packages to Suit Your School

Our GCSE packages are designed to suit different abilities, budgets and timetables, with options ranging from shorter sessions to more intensive courses. Students benefit from access to our climbing facilities, qualified instruction, specialist equipment and resources to support their learning.

Inclusive Climbing

Climbing for Everyone

We believe every young person deserves the opportunity to experience the excitement, challenge and achievement that climbing provides. Inclusion is at the heart of everything we do, creating a welcoming environment where everyone can take part, have fun and succeed.

Climbing helps disabled and neurodivergent people build confidence, improve coordination and body awareness, develop independence, and enjoy new social experiences.

Accessible Sessions Designed Around Individual Needs

Our experienced instructors work closely with schools and groups to tailor sessions to each participant's physical, sensory, communication and cognitive needs. We ensure every climber can take part safely, achieve their goals and feel proud of their progress.

A Supportive Community

Our inclusive sessions are supported by experienced Summit Up volunteers who work alongside our qualified instructors. All volunteers receive disability awareness training and are DBS checked, helping us provide a safe, friendly and encouraging environment.

Learning Outcomes

Helping Young People Thrive

CONFIDENCE

Climbing provides young people with opportunities to develop far more than physical skills. Through engaging, challenging and rewarding sessions, students build confidence, independence and valuable life skills that support their personal growth both on and off the climbing wall.

TEAMWORK

Through working with others, students develop important social skills including communication, teamwork, leadership, trust and the ability to encourage and support their peers.

PROBLEM SOLVING

Climbing is also a great way to develop thinking skills. Students learn to solve problems, make decisions, plan routes, stay focused and improve concentration as they navigate challenges.

PHYSICAL WELLBEING

Physically, climbing helps improve strength, balance, coordination, agility and flexibility. Students are encouraged to challenge themselves, develop body awareness and recognise their own progress.

MENTAL WELLBEING

Climbing also supports personal development by building confidence, resilience, self-esteem, determination and independence. Overcoming challenges on the wall helps students develop a positive mindset and belief in their own abilities.

Creating a Lasting Legacy

Supporting the Oldham Community

Summit Up has been funded by The Stoller Charitable Trust to create a lasting legacy for future generations across the Oldham community.

Founded by Sir Norman Stoller CBE KStJ DL in the 1980s, the Trust has donated millions of pounds to charitable causes, with a particular focus on supporting disadvantaged children and young people throughout Oldham.

Unlike many commercial leisure venues, any distributable profits generated by Summit Up are reinvested into charitable projects that benefit young people across the local community.

When schools choose Summit Up, they are not only providing students with an exciting and rewarding climbing experience — they are supporting a facility that gives back to the community and helps create opportunities for future generations.
